

BRAD SCHREIBER has worked as a writer in all media, as well as producer, executive, director and actor. He is Vice President of Storytech Literary Consulting (TheWritersJourney.com), founded by story structure expert Christopher Vogler.

Since 1999, Brad has handled international consultations with executives, writers, directors and producers of material for TV, film, books and New Media. In television, he created the series North Mission Road, which ran for six seasons on Court TV, based on his nonfiction book Death in Paradise: An Illustrated History of the Los Angeles County Department of Coroner (Running Press/Perseus). He has worked as a writer, producer and development executive for L.A. PBS affiliate KCET-TV as well as director of development for TV/film director Jonathan Kaplan.

Schreiber also wrote the six-hour live telecast, L.A. County Holiday Celebration which was aired nationally on PBS. His five books includes What Are You Laughing At?: How to Write Funny Screenplays, Stories and More and his compendium of live theatrical disasters, Stop the Show!, which was praised by Pulitzer Prize winning author Robert Olen Butler.

His next book is a biography of the early years of musician Jimi Hendrix, for Da Capo/Perseus, due in the Fall of 2010. He is a regular contributor to the Huffington Post and his national credits include Daily Variety, The Writer and Written By: The Journal of the Writers Guild of America. He was nominated for the Kingman Films KASA Award for his script The Couch and has won awards from the Edward Albee Foundation, the National Press Foundation, the National Audio Theatre Festivals and others. Schreiber has taught at the American Film Institute, the Directors Guild of America, the Gotham Writers Workshop in New York and writers conferences and universities in the US, Canada and Mexico.